AROTHER SALE.

During the past slaven months we have bought and sold Five Great Stocks-FIRST, the stock of L. M. Bates; SECOND, the steek of Goo. B. Hurd of Brooklyns THIRD, the Wm. H. Lyon Wholesale stock; POURTE, the Meyer Jenssoon Stock of Ladler' Cloaks and Wraps FIFTH, the Bernard Lovy Stock; and last week we com menced the SIXTH great sale-The Miller Steck of LEATHER GOODS AND TRUNKS.

Without our seeing them few great lots are seld Everywhere we are knewn as THE ONE FIRM who, at a sement's metics, are prepared to buy and pay the cash for quantities, let amount be what it may For a thousand or a hundred thousand or twice a hundred thousand dellars' worth of goods we always have the cosh on hand When Mr. Charles D. Miller had to sail he came to us knowing no other who would buy so great and fine a stock and pay the cash therefor Quickly we decide to buy or pass If but merchan dise and price be right we always buy, knowing that we can quickly cell.

At price we bought the Hiller stock we'd buy again were quantities three times as great...... It was and is the finest and the largest stock of Trunks and Leather Goods ever at retail shown in any store Tis new and bright and fresh-bought within the past few months-selected with the best judgment of one of the meet careful and successful dealers in these goods 'Twas only sold to us at sacrifice because Mr. Miller unfortunately had to move and give up business, with no time for preparation, in consequence of a competitor having hired his store without his knowledge When the best and finest goods are being sold as follows doubt the following. not but that this great sale will be as successful as any

Last week's sale was the wonder of New York. Asseriment that we this week show is far greater than our last week's offering...... The short time we had to mark and to arrange the stock did not nutil now permit our showing more than half.

that preceded it.

ALL WILL BR SOLD AT HALF TWENTY THIRD STREET PRICES.

and only in the basement of our own FOURTEENTH STREET STORES. See the following letter:

NEW YORK, March 7, 1880.
MESSRS JAMES A. HEARN & SON.
GENTLEMEN: Having been informed that others had represented their goods as stock that belonged to me. I will be obliged if you will state that you bought my entire stock. C. D. MILLER,

WASH DRESS FABRICS.

From week to week throughout the year good values follow with such constant change that they who try to imitate are always left a fortnight's journey in the rear With our experience and the markets of the world to choose from, we are always to advance and always show the newest and the best of goods in won derful variety at far lower prices than imitators possi bly can hope to sell their limited assortments.

IN WASH DRESS FABRICS

we are justiy known as the greatest retail dealers in the world.....Our Great Sales enable us to buy in quantities ten times as great as any other store..... Our great assortments and our ever-popular prices for the best of goods bring us so many customers that it is always easy for us to undertake that which for other would be folly.
